The Week That Was

January 1st to January 5th 2024.

Nifty : (-0.09%, 21711)
 Sensex : (-0.30%, 72026)

The first three trading days of 2024 have been something of a rout for Nifty bulls, but the benchmark’s subsequent solid rebound is proof that bulls are destined to keep crushing the perma-bears.

Why do we say, the bull market at Dalal Street is ‘Alive & Kicking’?

- 1) Broader markets at Dalal Street scaled fresh all-time-high as Nifty Midcap 100 index gained 2.39% and Nifty Smallcap index ended 2% higher.
- 2) The 2024’s macro picture looks quite promising for equities all the time.
- 3) We suspect, combination of solid economic activity and falling inflation in the US is likely to be the market’s bullish narrative.
- 4) Nifty’s long-term outlook remains widely bullish on high rate-cut bets as the street is pricing a very dovish Federal Reserve this year, with the first interest-rate cut projected by March, and six more cuts penciled in by the end of 2024.

Long story short: If last two-days’ positive action is any indication, then Nifty bulls may aim to conquer their all-time-high at 21,834.35 mark. Aggressive inter-month targets seen at 22,000 mark.

The Week Ahead: Q3 earnings will take the centre stage this week.

Despite Nifty closing unchanged, the positive takeaway was that the FIIs continued to post satisfying buying figures in the first week of 2024 as well at Rs. 3290.23 crores.

But as we enter the second week of 2024, the focus shifts to Q3 earnings seasons for India Inc with TCS and Infosys setting afire the ceremonial starters pistol for the same, on Thursday, January 11th. IT stocks traded lower last week owing to concerns over high valuations and expectations of muted earnings growth for the fiscal third quarter ended December 2023. This was quite obvious as the October-December period is typically a slow quarter due to the holiday season in the US and European countries, which are the biggest markets for Indian IT firms.

Next thing to watch out for at the global level will be US CPI (consumer price index), releasing on Jan 11. This number is estimated to rise 0.3% month-on-month for December. Investors are expecting that Fed will deliver rate cuts of around 75 bps for 2024 and hence, Thursday's CPI number becomes a deciding factor for the same.

Crude Oil prices likely to recover more as the Red Sea crisis continue to vex investors worldwide. In India, government officials met shipping companies last week to assess the impact of the situation. Both Brent and WTI ended the first week of the year higher. WTI rose 3% last week, to $73.81 per barrel.

Back at home, IPO to kick-in this week will be Jyoti CNC Automation, which will open for subscription on January 9 and close on January 11. The issue has a fixed price of ₹315-331 per share. The investors can bid for a minimum of 45 equity shares and in multiples. The IPO is a fresh issue of equity shares worth up to ₹1,000 crore. The CNC manufacturer has reserved 75% of the IPO size for QIBs, 15% for non-institutional investors and the remaining 10% for retail individual investors.

The Nifty options data suggests Nifty is likely to be in a trading range of 20800-21700 zone. Maximum Call OI is at 22000 followed by 22500 strike prices. So, the 22000 mark is still Nifty’s crucial resistance zone. Maximum Put open interest stands at 21000 levels followed by 20500 levels. Call writing was seen at 21900 and then at 22100 strike price, while there was meaningful Put writing at 20700 and then at 20800 strike prices.

Technically speaking, Nifty’s technical picture continues to be positive despite overbought technical conditions with biggest inter-week hurdles at Nifty’s psychological 22,000 mark. Biggest interweek support now seen at 21495 mark and then next supports are placed at 21101 mark.

Bank Nifty too likely to be an outperformer with initial targets at 49500 mark and then aggressive targets even above 50000 mark. Key inter-week support now seen at 46951

R1 : Resistance one : 1st Resistance over PP. R2 : Resistance two : 2nd Resistance over R1.
S1 : Support one : 1st support after PP. S2 : Support Two : 2nd support after S1.

As per the tool, the trader should take BUY position just above PP and keep the stop loss of PP and the first target would be R1.
If R1 is crossed then R2 becomes the next target with the stop loss at R1.

Similarly if price goes below PP the trader should SELL and keep the PP as Stop loss and the first target would be S1.

If S1 is crossed then S2 becomes the next target with the stop loss at S1.
This is a trading tool. The key to use of this tool is the use of STOP LOSS.
