Daily Research Reports

Good Morning & Welcome to Thursday's trading session at Dalal Street, dated August 7th 2025.

Gift Nifty is indicating a gap-down start for our stock markets.

The Biggest Negative Catalyst: Trump slaps double tariff on India, imposes additional 25% tariff on Indian goods.

Trump is primarily unhappy with India's continued purchase of Russian oil, a major source of funding for Moscow's war in Ukraine.

The new tariff will come into effect in three weeks and will be in addition to a separate 25% duty that takes force on Thursday.

Exemptions however remain sectors like steel and aluminium, as well as potentially affected categories like pharmaceuticals.

That brings us to our call of the day which suggests Nifty's rally and optimism has hit the rocks and now has nowhere to go but down.

Long Story Short: Volatility and choppiness could be the order of the day.

The bears are likely to be everywhere at Dalal Street.

Outlook for Thursday: Bear attack likely to get more gruesome.

Nifty was hammered in yesterday's trade amidst Trump's fresh warning for India.

That brings us to our call of the day which suggests Nifty's rally has hit the rocks.

And we believe, 'The Trump tariff threats are just one of the negative catalysts'. The other reasons are:

1) FII selling: Last week, FIIs were net sellers to the tune of Rs. 20524 crores. This week too, FIIs have sold to the tune of Rupees 7588 crores.

2) Uninspiring Q1FY26 by Indian corporates.

3) The Indian rupee has extended its fall towards 87.90 amid sustained concerns over U.S. President Donald Trump's threaten to "substantially" raise tariffs on goods imported from India.

4) Weakening technical landscape.

Long Story Short: Volatility and choppiness could be the order of the day.

All eyes will be also on corporate India's Q1 earnings season:

RECAP OF PREVIOUS DAY'S TRADING SESSION:

NIFTY (-75, 24574)

Sensex (-166, 80544)

Bank Nifty (+51, 55411)

Unveiling the third bi-monthly monetary policy for 2025-26, Mr. Malhotra said the above normal southwest monsoon, lower inflation, rising capacity utilisation, and congenial financial conditions continue to support domestic economic activity

The CPI inflation for FY26 projected down at 3.1% as compared with 3.7% projected in June.

But still, the elephant in the room remains the tariffs threats by President Trump.

US President Donald Trump has threatened to raise tariffs on India from the present 25%. On Tuesday, Trump said that over the next 24 hours, the US will likely 'very substantially' raise tariffs on India for its purchase of Russian crude oil and refusal to stop.

That brings us to our call of the day which suggests markets are likely remain choppy and volatile until 'the Trump tariff threats are off the front pages'

There are still hopes that the latest 25% tariffs won't come into effect until August 7th, so there is a window of opportunity for the Indian government to try and negotiate lower levies.

Also, the U.S. team is likely to visit India on August 25 for next round of talks for trade pact

Bottom-line: Sentiments are seen walking the tightrope between tariff threats and newly optimistic dovish Federal Reserve bets.
